

Assessment

Solution Brief

Cloud storage averages 25% of overall cloud bills, but IT, Cloud, and FinOps teams have little-to-no visibility into how effectively that spend is being used. Teams see their bill, but not how much of that storage they're actually utilizing. With the industry average for disk utilization sitting at only 30%, this is a problem.

Lucidity Assessment is a free, web-based self-service tool that quickly pulls back the curtain on hidden metrics like disk utilization, giving enterprises a unified picture of their storage usage and where their spend is going.

Works across

See the state of your storage

See disk utilization metrics to identify underprovisioned disks and downtime risks for the first time

Fast and secure

Assessment can be run in 15 minutes or less with fine-grained control over scope and coverage

No cost, no commitment

Assessment is free and doesn't require any commitment

"Lucidity is a game-changer in cloud storage management, helping enterprises optimize storage utilization, enhance performance, and significantly reduce costs across all three major cloud providers."

Run an Assessment to learn:

Your disk utilization and cloud storage spend

Get a real-time, unified understanding of your block storage environment. For the first time, see the utilization metrics that your cloud provider doesn't show you.

New opportunities to save

See the storage savings opportunities in your cloud environment with visibility into actual disk utilization and underprovisioned disks.

Identify potential downtime risks

Get insights into overprovisioned disks so you can act before they cause downtime

Lucidity is the industry's first multi-cloud storage management company, turning cloud storage from a reactive task into a strategic advantage. By delivering deep visibility, actionable insights, and one-click automation, Lucidity simplifies storage management across AWS, Azure, and Google Cloud, unlocking significant cost savings and freeing up valuable time and budget.
